REPORT.

TO THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR GRACIOUS MAJESTY,

1. We, the Commissioners of Charitable Donations and Bequests for Ireland, humbly submit to your Majesty this our Forty-fifth Annual Report.

2. Since our last Report twenty-nine meetings have been held. We have made upwards of 400 orders in various matters affecting charities and charity property, besides providing for the regular issue of the sums payable to the charities under our control.

3. Of the amount of our solicitor's costs for the past year, £148 4s. 11d. is chargeable upon the Vote as irrecoverable, the remainder being provided for out of the various charity funds.

4. The Exchequer continues to receive from us £38 8s. 8d., being the annual dividend on an old endowment from private sources placed in the hands of the late Board in 1815, "to assist them in recovering embezzled charities." This is not required for that purpose so long as costs and expenses incurred, and not otherwise realized, are paid out of the Parliamentary vote.

5. The aggregate amounts held by us on the 1st of January, 1890, were as follows:—

	£	s.	d.
Consolidated 2½ per Cents.,	450,314	0	2
Cash,	2,192	15	6
Miscellaneous Securities,	15,135	0	1

In addition, we receive rents and annuities of the yearly value of £2,843 15s. 7d.

6. Three hundred and seventy-five funds for various charitable purposes have been lodged with us, from time to time, since the "Charitable Donations and Bequests Act (Ireland), 1867," enabled Trustees to make such voluntary transfers.

The entire amount so received since 1867 is:—

	£	s.	d.
Consolidated 2½ per Cents.,	196,947	15	2
Cash,	73,979	12	9
Miscellaneous,	15,658	4	2

A detailed list for each of the past four years will be found in the third schedule.

In the last year, taken separately these amounted to:—

	£	s.	d.
Consolidated 2½ per Cents.,	13,293	9	0
Cash,	1,342	12	9
Miscellaneous	2,578	4	8

7. The safety secured for charitable funds by placing them under our custody has been recognized by the increased number of cases in which they have been bequeathed to us by Testators themselves, or transferred by Executors and Trustees desirous of relieving themselves from personal responsibility. The Judges of the Court of Chancery, too, have during the past year in many cases ordered the transfer to us of funds under their jurisdiction.

In the bequest of Miss Elizabeth Strain Coulson for the development of musical education in Ireland, referred to in some of our previous Reports, her Executor has paid over to us a further sum of £2,471 0s. 10d., New Consols, and this with the sums previously transferred, brings up the fund in our hands to £17,447 7s. 6d. Under a scheme framed by the Educational Endowments Commissioners we remit the income to the Governors of the Royal Irish Academy of Music, who administer it for the purpose of musical education.

8. A bequest for certain classes of poor in the town and neighbourhood of Newry, considerably exceeding in amount £100,000, was left by the will of Mr. Quinn, who was a native of that town, but was for the greater part of his life domiciled in England. A suit for the administration of his assets is at present pending in the Court of Chancery in England, and a scheme has been framed and finally approved of under which such portion of the corpus of the fund as is dedicated to charitable purposes is to be transferred to us, the dividends to be by us remitted to local Trustees, appointed by the Court to administer the charity. We have been in communication with the Solicitors having the carriage of the proceedings on behalf of the Attorney-General for England, and though the sum to be transferred to us has not at the date of this report been actually measured, we have learned that within a very short space of time it will be ascertained, and that the final order for its payment to us will then be made. The charity will then be put into operation without further delay.

Another case has been submitted to us by the Solicitors for the Attorney-General for England, in which a bequest was left by the will of Mademoiselle Riego de la Brauchardiere, also domiciled in England, for charitable purposes in Ireland. At the request of the Attorney-General we submitted for his approval a short scheme which, in our opinion, would be free from all cumbrous machinery, and under which the charity could be administered at small expense by administrators appointed by us, and under our control. We have learned from the Solicitors having the carriage of the proceedings that the scheme has been finally settled in the form suggested by us, that the certificate approving it has been signed, and that nothing now remains but to have the fund transferred to us. The amount stated in the scheme is £4,938 6s. 8d. New Consols, but it is subject to deductions for costs and legacy duty.

9. The reduction of the incomes of Charities whose funds are invested in Government Securities, owing to the reduction in the rate of interest, has caused numerous applications to be made to us to alter investments into securities bearing a higher rate of interest. We have, however, in general felt ourselves unable to comply with these requests.

10. In three cases we have been applied to by the Trustees of Charity Properties in land for authority to dispose of them by sale, and when after careful inquiry, and on independent valuation, we were satisfied that fair prices had been offered, we authorized the sale. In one case, however, in which we were of opinion that the amount of purchase money offered was wholly insufficient, we refused to sanction the sale.

11. Up to the passing of the Acts of the 30th and 31st, and 34th and 35th years of Your Majesty's reign charitable bequests of small amounts were partly from carelessness, and partly from dishonesty, frequently withheld, and the remedies for their recovery were so costly that they were seldom or ever resorted to. Since the passing of those two Statutes all this has been changed, inasmuch as by summary petition to the Court of Chancery, as well as by proceedings in the County Courts, we are now enabled to recover small bequests at a comparatively trifling cost. In three or four cases we have resorted to these remedies with excellent results. These Statutes have also placed at our disposal another means of realizing small bequests not only without cost but at a considerable saving of expense to charitable funds; for while as a general rule we insist on due local publication of bequests of large amounts, yet as the funds destined for charitable purposes have to contribute proportionately to the costs of advertisements, we frequently exercise the power conferred on us of exempting small bequests from publication, but nearly always on the condition of their being paid within a limited period. This condition is almost uniformly accepted by executors who, within the period limited by the communications addressed to them, produce for the inspection of our Secretaries receipts signed by the Treasurers of Institutions or other persons entitled, and hence within a few months after the death of a Testator all the small bequests left by his Will are discharged in full. So far as it can be ascertained from our records, the total amount paid in small bequests, and without any deduction, within the last five years, has been about £12,127, making an average in each year of £2,425.

12. Our Charity Accounts for the year ended 31st December, 1888, were duly audited by the Local Government Board Auditor, and declared correct by him. The Accounts for the year ended December 31st, 1889, have been prepared and submitted for audit.

13. Accounts of the sum voted by Parliament have been regularly furnished by us, in accordance with the forms adopted under the direction of the Treasury, and the provisions of the "Exchequer and Audit Departments Acts, 1866"; and our Appropriation Account for the year ending 31st March, 1889, has been certified to be correct by the Auditor-General of Public Accounts.

All which we submit as our Report, and in testimony thereof we have caused our Corporate Seal to be hereto affixed this 9th day of July, 1890.
